

Meeting #6: Sharing and Thinking Together, Part 1

Questions and Comments?

How are things going?

Half of Us Share Our Beginning Ideas and Get Feedback and Suggestions

Both in conversation and on the Google Docs Seher set up for us. 15-20 minutes per person. The time is yours, but tell us at least:

- Which course you are working on and how it fits into your discipline's curriculum.
- Which assignments from the course you are working on.

What We Are Doing

Continuing the conversation and brainstorming where and how AI could be ethically and productively added to the writing processes in our classes, based on our experience writing a paper in the first part of the workshop. Integrating AI into the various parts of the writing process: assignment, invention, investigating the genre, drafting, feedback, evaluation of students' work.

Homework

Develop your revised syllabus and 2-3 assignments more.

Second sharers: get ready to chat with us for 15 minutes next week.
